SJL Emerging Leaders Program

The SJL Emerging Leaders Program aims to develop future campus and community leaders through interactive learning experiences and internships within SGA. This program was recently expanded to further develop all skills of participants and assigning them a project in which they have full autonomy to grow, further exercising the following skills: teamwork, leadership, organizational, communication time management, conflict management, etc while continuing to give back to the campus.

One-Time Allocation FY26: SJL Emerging Leaders Week

As the responsibilities of the Emerging Leaders within our organization have expanded, the 61st administration would like to increase the funding of the program to improve further the outcome of the program and the student-to-student engagement rate within the program. Hereby, creating the leaders of tomorrow within the organization and the university.

SGA is requesting $1,590 to cover the cost of a week of events open to all students organized by the SJL Emerging Leaders to promote student engagement, advocacy, and involvement in the community. $1,500 would cover all the event expenses including, food, outreach/collaboration, marketing, decorations, etc and $90 would cover the business and administrative fees.

Benefits:

1. Community Engagement – SJL Emerging Leaders will have the chance to partner up with RSO's and other SFAC funded units to engage the community and promote advocacy and student engagement in the University
2. Leadership Training – Students leading the project through the program would be able to learn how to lead a project that affects a community as well as time management, conflict management, teamwork, and budget administration.

3. Education- students who will be future leaders in the institution would be able to interact and engage with the student body and educate them about the importance of community engagement and advocacy

Cost:

Price of Events $1,500

Admin Fees (6.0 %) $90

Total Cost $1,590
